Valentine wish among the last for slain woman

"Happy Valentine's Day." It was not the only legacy she left, but one of the last.

She bought the card last drug habit. Later "kicking" it, she again had encountered drug dealers in Texas and had returned to Madison this winter in the hope of defeating drugs again.

Mrs. Donna Marie (Rials) Bartels, 21, who had come to the OATH (Organization of the Advancement of the Handicapped) Building to live from Beeville, Tex., after earlier residence in Illinois, was found dead Wednesday in the Mississippi River near the island.

Those irreversible facts are part of the legacy that she could have wanted part of her to live on—to help others where events had prevented her from helping herself.

She had developed a drug habit. Later "kicking" it, she again had encountered drug dealers in Texas and had returned to Madison this winter in the hope of defeating drugs again.

In addition to her goal of regaining full health, she had hoped to tell her story as a warning to other young people to avoid drug abuse.

But her savage death thwarted her from speaking directly, and she can be quoted only through her mother and her conversations with others.

The messages that remain contain passages whose sadness is heightened by her tragic death.

"A guy came up there and threatened my life...." "There have been three kidnaps in the last month."

"Don't feel so alone...." "Pick up the pieces you see before you...."

"Rise up and be free...."

Since her return to Madison County in late January, Mrs. Bartels had obtained literature from the Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Council, 3911 State St., East St. Louis, and 1008 W. Main St., Belleville.

Friends and she would have strongly recommended such counseling to others who have encountered drug or drinking problems too big for them to cope with.

"A guy came up there and threatened my life...." "There have been three kidnaps in the last month."

"Don't feel so alone...." "Pick up the pieces you see before you...."

"Rise up and be free...."

She had been to D.C., Virginia Beach, and Mississippi and still moved back here.

"I really don't know why, either. It just seems when you're at ends, it's a place to start all over again."

"...Kathy, my little girl, is with her daddy in Illinois. They were just too hot for awhile...."

"I felt I was being more of a mother by letting her go until I kicked and was back on my feet. I'm clean now and have my head where it belongs."

"It sure don't take long to get in a hole; it's climbing long and hard."

"...Carol's boy friend O. D. (overdosed) Monday night. They buried him Wednesday."

"...Peace, Donna."

"...I'm going to be with the intention of residing here permanently followed."

A letter to her this month, from an Illinois woman read,

"The day you got here I was very happy to see you back here. Then you got all the work you got missed out on because of a man you loved...."

"Do you remember the night that no one was home and a guy came up there and threatened my life?" Ever since then, I've always been scared of dope. I don't smoke, but hard drugs, I sure would never take anything like that. And I haven't."

"Kathy had to go through all of that, too."

"...A neighbor got on me this morning. She yelled and screamed at me. I don't know what happened to Kathy in her sleep."

"...Donna, there have been three killings in the last two weeks in Breezes...."

"It hurts me to see what you are going through."

"I'd rather see you with Kathy.... Please think twice before you do anything."

"I know you are still going to another—wondering 'Where am I going to live, what will I eat, how will I eat, what kind of surroundings will I have?'

The letter continued, "Donna, I love you and Kathy too much to see you destroy yourself, and that's what's happening now. I don't know what you did to her, but I'm sure it happened to Kathy even if she was sleeping."

"...Donna, there have been three killings in the last two weeks in Breezes...."

"It hurts me to see what you are going through."

"I'd rather see you with Kathy.... Please think twice before you do anything."

The motion to accept the offer for dock, warehouse and transportation facilities was made by Mrs. Jacqueline Phillips, chairman of the Bi-State Agency's waterways committee.

She specified that the sale is contingent upon the execution of a memorandum of agreement between Bi-State and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council specifying Bi-State's new role as "the regional port competitor of metropolitan St. Louis."

Port Attorneys Randall Robertson and Eric Robertson are consulting with Bi-State attorneys on details of the transaction affecting the river terminal.

Carl Ranft, Tri-City Port secretary, manager and head of a regional association of port districts in the two states, was present to assure that the various ports will agree to coordination of port planning and promotion by Bi-State.

John Brawley, Bi-State chairman, hailed Friday's vote as a major step forward that can lead to expanded shipping and economic activity in the region.

Negotiations with the Tri-City Port had been in progress for several months and the $70,000 proposal was an increase from an earlier $40,000 offer.

A $73,000 payment is to be made annually for ten years, and the Port District is to assume existing contracts and obligations.

4 hurt on Route 203

Four persons were injured in a four-car chain-reaction accident on Route 203 at Bend Road, near Carmi.

State troopers said the autos of Steve E. Palmer, 1123 Bissell St., Venice; Leon Johnson, East St. Louis, and Charles Johnson, 29 East St. Louis, were stopped in a line of slow traffic on Route 203 when a fourth auto struck the rear of Charles Johnson's auto, causing a chain-reaction collision which damaged all four cars.

The fourth auto then left the scene without leaving information on the identity of the driver.

Charles Johnson and three passengers in his auto were injured and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Johnson was treated for minor injuries and was transferred by his request to Christian Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Lumas, 19, East St. Louis, suffered pain to her neck, right shoulder and back and also requested to be transferred to Christian Hospital.

Also transferred to the East St. Louis hospital was Edward Lawson, 23, East St. Louis, who was unconscious when taken to the hospital. X-rays were taken here and he was transferred.

George Horvat, 62, his wife, Laura, 60, a special education teacher at Wilson School, and their son, Louis Joseph, were beaten severely and tortured by four youths who invaded their home at 613 N. 24th St. East St. Louis, early Thursday.

Mrs. Horvat, who has taught at Wilson School for 16 years, was in critical condition when taken to St. Luke's Hospital, St. Louis.

She suffered internal injuries, massive external bruises and multiple fractures of both hands. She underwent surgery Thursday.

In an nearby hospital room her son, Louis Joseph, also has been issued against Carl Wayne Lee Wilson, 18, and Bonnie Lee Cunningham, 18, both of East St. Louis. A 16-year-old juvenile, also of East St. Louis, was referred to juvenile authorities.

A concentrated around-the-clock search by East St. Louis Police and Illinois State Police ended with the capture of the four youths.

Murder warrants have been issued against Carl Wayne Lee Wilson, 18, and Bonnie Lee Cunningham, 18, both of East St. Louis. A 16-year-old juvenile, also of East St. Louis, was referred to juvenile authorities.

The Horvat's ordeal follows a recent pattern of terror-style beatings of East St. Louis residents by small groups, according to authorities.

Det. John Andrews said in 10 or 12 cases in the past two months have been reported in which residents have been

Record funding for veterans' programs

Funding levels for veterans' programs in the President's fiscal year 1976 budget request to Congress are the highest in the history of the VA.

Richard L. Roudabush, administrator of veterans' affairs, reports that the Veterans Administration's budget request of $16.1 billion marks the highest in the 20-year history in which VA budget authority has set new highs.

The $16.1 billion request represents an increase of $170 million in budget authority over estimated requirements for fiscal year 1975.

Estimated budget outlays in the coming fiscal year of $15.6 billion are also a record high and $131.4 million over estimated outlays this year, the VA head said.

Administrator Roudabush said that under the new budget, VA's average employment in fiscal 1976 will be increased by 9,218 to a total of 205,766 — the highest level of employment since 1947.

Average employment of 181,511 for the Department of Medicine and Surgery will be the sixth consecutive year of increased employment and 9,000 over this fiscal year, he said.

Highlighting the request record budget for VA, Roudabush said that it provides for:

1. Payments of $4.6 billion in service-connected disability and death compensation benefits to 2.6 million veterans and survivors in financial need.

2. More than $4 billion in education and training assistance payments to 2.6 million veterans and survivors and 80,000 sons, daughters, wives and widows of veterans whose deaths or severe disabilities resulted from military service.

3. Increased funding level for VA's hospital and medical care program of $3.9 billion — $366 million over the 1975 estimate and $45 million over the 1974 actual funding.

4. A record high $403.9 million for construction — up $109.9 million over the 1975 estimate and $293 million over the 1974 actual funding.

5. Housing credit assistance for guaranteed loans of more than $1 billion to 365,750 veterans, bringing the cumulative total number of home loans guaranteed by VA to 9.5 million.

7. Life insurance protection totaling more than $98 billion for 6.5 million veterans and active duty servicemen.

8. Continued emphasis on timely, quality VA services to veterans and beneficiaries through such programs as Vetreach, Outreach, and Vet-Rep on Campus.

9. Burial benefits of $143 million, including $37.5 million in plot allowances for veterans buried in private cemeteries.

Roudabush emphasized that budgetary programs expenditure of $11.7 billion in fiscal year 1976 represent 71.4 per cent of VA's total $16.1 billion budget authority.

The record $3 billion funding for VA's hospital and other medical programs is 23.4 per cent of the agency's total budget and will enable VA to:

—Provide inpatient hospital care for 1,246,531 veterans — an increase of 1,161 and 105,781 over fiscal year 1974.

—Handle more than 14,700 annual outpatient medical visits, also a record high and nearly 2.5 million more than in fiscal 1974. Roudabush said that care will be more accessible to more veterans, as VA will operate 20 more outpatient clinics and 32 more mental hygiene clinics.

—Provide hospital and medical care for upwards of 178,000 beneficiaries on any given day.

—Raise the composite VA hospital staffing ratio to 167 staff for each 100 patients — 10 more than the 1975 100 patients that fiscal 1974.

The $403.9 million for hospital construction will permit completion of funding for four new VA hospitals in Augusta, Ga., Bronx, N.Y., College Park, Md., and Long Beach, Calif., and the obligation of $137 million for replacement and modernization projects now ongoing.

Included in the $4.3 billion national health construction budget, Roudabush emphasized, is $35.1 million for continued implementation of Quality of Care Survey recommendations growing out of the agency study in fiscal year 1974 at VA hospitals and clinics.

—Additional funding of $37.9 million also has been requested for this purpose in fiscal year 1975.

Science fiction lecture

The School of Humanities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a lecture on science fiction by John G. Taylor, professor of mathematics at the University of London, on Wednesday. The lecture will be held in the University Library Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Taylor has written science fiction plays and acted in them for the British Broadcasting Company.

He has written a book on science fiction titled "Black Holes." According to Robert Duncan, professor of English, language and literature at SIUE, "black holes" are the recently discovered gathering of matter and energy that light cannot escape them. Taylor also has a new book on extra-sensory perception and other mental phenomena titled "Supernatural." He has authored several science fiction novels during the past few years.

The lecture is free, and the public is invited to attend. The English Language and Literature Department at SIUE may be contacted for more information.

Consumer's guide to economic news

Concerning economic structure, there is a proliferation of obfuscation in explanations to the nation.

Wha-a-a?

Well, that sentence is no worse than some of the terms economists use to report economic development to Americans whose knowledge about economics, in many cases, begins and ends with the fact that their money buys less and that is the reason is called "inflation."

But taxpaying, grocery-buying, bill-paying—and worried—Americans have a right to know how to read the economic tea leaves so they can prepare for, or prevent, the fate that might be in store for them.

To this end, a brief "field guide" to identifying the tallest trees in the verbal forest of current economics has been prepared by the Family Economics Bureau. Here is the guide:

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX A statistical barometer of price levels for goods and services being bought by most urban wage earners, compared to prices in 1967—the base index.

The current Consumer Price Index tells us that in 1974 it cost $154.30 to buy what $100 bought in 1967, a result of 12.1 per cent inflation during 1974, 8 per cent in 1973 and lower rates in earlier years.

Disposable Income

The amount of wages and salaries left to spend, after deduction of taxes and other fees required by government.

Disposable income has been running a match race with inflation since 1967 and winning—until 1974. It dropped 1.5 per cent in 1974, the first drop since World War II.

Before 1974, incomes generally rose faster than prices, so consumers were able to buy as much, despite inflation. But, last year, prices rose faster than incomes.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT The dollar value of all goods and services produced in the U.S.

A drop-in "real" GNP (that is, GNP in stable dollars) is one of two prime indicators of a recession. High unemployment is the other.

Largely because GNP has been dropping at an annual rate of 4.5 to 5 per cent, nearly 6.5 million people looking for jobs couldn't find them in December 1974, up to the largest number of unemployed in 13 years.

On the downside, GNP works like this:

When the rate of economic growth declines, business profits even more decline, too—so businessmen reduce their plant improvements and buy less new equipment.

In stable dollars, capital investment in plant and equipment has been dropping steadily since 1970.

As a result, the amount of goods industry produces declines, and profits decline still more.

And, because industry is producing less, it needs fewer employees. Unemployment rises, and EXPENDABLE INCOME drops along with CONSUMER DEMAND for the things manufactured by industry. This produces still more "drag" on economic growth.

CONSUMER CONFIDENCE

The mood of consumers is viewed as a potent economic force.

That's why government policymakers looked up from their charts and graphs and listened attentively when the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center announced that confidence in the economy has dropped to its lowest point in 25 years.

Said Jay Shmeideskamp, director of Research Survey Research Center:

"Consumers are dejected, not only by the continuation of a high rate of inflation but also by the slowdown in the economy."

STAGFLATION

Such a combination of inflation and recession that a new word was needed to describe it.

In this tug of war, each citizen will probably get the best lesson he's ever had in basic economics.

12 divorces are granted economics are not working quite the way they used to."

Stagflation led to some indecisiveness in the community of economists in 1974.

President Gerald Ford, who called inflation the primary cause of recession, received conflicting advice.

Some economists advised the President to reduce the federal budget and follow tight monetary policies. (But, that might worsen the recessionary trend.)

Most economists, however, advised him to cut taxes and suggested that the Federal Reserve Board ease money for banks to loan to business. (But that might worsen the inflationary trend.)

At this point, the President and Congress agreed that inflation was the primary cause of recession. Such a recognition of inflation and recession that a new word was needed to describe it.

With stagflation, high unemployment (characteristic of recession) and high prices (inflation) exist simultaneously.

Says Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, "The rules of Deductions may be made for care of children, disabled

Eligible taxpayers may reduce their federal income tax by deducting the cost of care for children, a disabled husband or wife, a dependent child, or Loeb, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois, has pointed out.

Taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of $18,000 or less may be eligible to deduct as $400 a month for household and dependent care expenses. Those who earn more than $18,000 a year must reduce the deduction by 50 cents for each dollar over $18,000.

To qualify for this deduction, according to Loeb, taxpayers must be employed on a substantially full-time basis, must provide more than half the cost of maintaining a household for a dependent child, a disabled spouse or dependent of any age, and must make the payments to persons other than relatives or dependents.

Loeb noted that this deduction may include household expenses for the usual services of a housekeeper, maid, or cook.

Additionally, he said, expenses for services performed in the home, day care, nursery school or day care for dependents under 15 may be included as part of the deduction if they are necessary to enable the taxpayer to work. However, he added, these expenses are limited to $200 a month for two dependents, $300 for three or more.

According to the law, such expenses cannot be claimed in educational costs for child in the first or higher grades.

Loeb also said that deductions for care of disabled dependents over 15 years of age must be reduced by the amount that the dependent's adjusted gross income and any nontaxable disability payments exceed $750.

The expenses claimed for the care of a disabled husband or wife, he said, must be reduced by the amount of nontaxable disability payments received.

Valentine

do what you want to. That's your life...."

Mrs. Bartels once wrote,

"Here's a favorite poem of mine:

"Bluebird on a rock, slow wind blowing soft across the bare face of the sleeping lake. Rise up and be free, voice whispering."

"Go climb up in a hill. Stand perfectly still and silently soak up the day. Don't rush and don't roam. Don't feel so alone."

"Pick up the pieces you see before you. Don't let your weakness destroy you."

"You know wherever you go the world will follow, so let your reasons be true to you."

"Stay close to your friends up until the end of time."

"And when they know that you feel the same way, rise up and be free and die happy. And in this way you will awake."

The Valentine still purchased for Friday's holiday also contained some poetry:

"Thank you for all the love you've shown; for my happy childhood memories and the home life that I've known."

"Though I never can repay you, I can hope that I will be as good to you as you have been to me. And I'll always love you both."

The red and gold card featured colorful flowers to help convey the Valentine message.

The poem was written and reached its destination after it had been verified that she was dead and her possessions were turned over to relatives.

The poem that she cited earlier, "Ring us and we'll free and the world will follow, in this way you will awake" — was not destined to become a reality. She died not happy, but cruelly.

If it is possible to interpret her last thoughts, they might be as follows:

"The world can be cruel, but don't form habits that make it worse.

"Pick up the pieces you see before you. Don't let your weakness destroy you."

Brother of kidney transplant victim to undergo same operation at Mayo's

Donald Gean, 40-year-old brother of Ray Gean, who underwent a kidney transplant operation in May 1972, is a patient at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., waiting the same operation, according to a family spokesman.

According to the family, there is a chance the victim of the rare Fabray kidney disease, which is believed to be transmitted through the individual's mother. The illness is a blood disease which deteriorated the kidney and eventually requires major surgery.

The Granite City man has been treated for the illness since it was discovered by doctors that his brother, Ray, had the kidney ailment.

Donald Gean has been a patient at the Mayo Clinic for about two and a half months and already has undergone surgery for the removal of both kidneys.

He is able to use a kidney machine while waiting for the transplant operation.

By using the machine he was able to spend last weekend at home, which will probably be the last visit prior to the transplant operation.

His brother is now able to lead a fairly normal life and is in good health, but unable to return to work.

Calvo vice-chairman of Cities Committee

Illinois House of Representatives committee assignments include the Cities and Villages Committee for Rep. Horace Calvo (D, Granite City), who will be vice-chairman of that committee.

Calvo also will serve on the Environment, Energy and Natural Resources Committee.

Rep. Everett Steel (I, Glen Carbon) will be a member of the Transportation, Appropriations Committee.

Most committee chairmanships went to legislators loyal to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and early backers of House Speaker William A. Steiger.

One of the most influential this year will be Majority Leader Gerald Shea of Chicago.

Pharmacist

Madison-St. Clair group has urged all member pharmacists to attend the teach-in and to participate in the program. "It offers a golden opportunity to serve the community and to help stamp out dangerous health stains," Still said.

"Numerous agencies and individuals, including the World Health Organization (WHO), have received recognition for the VD epidemic cannot be halted by traditional methods alone," Mirsky said. "They have recommended that the focus should now shift to public education."

Between 1954 and 1974 the incidence of VD has more than tripled, according to statistics published by the U.S. Center for Disease Control. More than 51,000 cases of VD were reported in 1974.

"The trend is primarily due to public ignorance of the persistence of myths and the lack of understanding of the seriousness of the epidemic," Mirsky said. "They have recommended that the focus should now shift to public education."

Based on CAVDA and the Madison-St. Clair group, the campaign is being sponsored by the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association, the Chicago Association of Retail Druggists and the Illinois Department of Public Health.

The program will begin at noon on Feb. 26 in the Illinois Room at St. Louis. It will continue until 2:15 p.m. A fee of $4.25 will be charged to help defray costs.

Anyone wishing more information or to make a reservation may call Ann Evans 656-7394.

JEWELRY THEFT

Marie Stieb, 2626 Hodges Ave., reported to police at 11:30 p.m. Saturday that she had been burglarized at her home during the night. She said she had been charged with disorderly conduct.

She said she believed these efforts will overcome this educational gap and help to end the epidemic," Mirsky said.

In addition to CAVDA and the Madison-St. Clair group, the campaign is being sponsored by the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association, the Chicago Association of Retail Druggists and the Illinois Department of Public Health.

No signs of forced entry were found.

subjected to abuse by two to four intruders.

"They break on the door and then barge in and ransack the place," he said. "Mr. Horvat's death and the beating of his wife and son is the most serious of all the cases," the officer said.

According to the family, there will be a benefit show sponsored by the neighbors and friends of the family, sometime during the spring, to assist with the medical expenses.

Donald Gean and his wife, Edna, reside in Granite City. He had been employed at General Steel Industries until the plant closed, and worked at Granite City Steel Co. until a plant layoff led to his unemployment.

According to the family, there will be a benefit show sponsored by the neighbors and friends of the family, sometime during the spring, to assist with the medical expenses.

"She was sitting there on the floor in her nightgown, covered with blood," Captain John Andrews of the East St. Louis detective squad said.

Officers then went to the Horvat home and found Mr. Horvat and his son unconscious, lying near the front door.

In addition to the smashed hand, there were cuts, massive bruises and other injuries, the Horvats had been sprayed with spray paint. Food, flour and cooking oil were poured over them.

Mrs. Horvat was able to tell only part of what had happened during the two-hour ordeal, according to Corporal Terence Delaney, an Illinois State Police detective.

Mrs. Horvat reported being pulled from her bed by a man at about midnight by a young man.

She was dragged down the stairs of the two-story frame house into the living room, where three other youths were waiting and kicking her husband and son, she told authorities.

She said sticks and metal pipes were used in the beatings, Delaney said.

Two men then took turns beating the Horvats while the other two ransacked the home, she reported.

During the beatings the youths would periodically stop to urinate in the house. The beatings, however, appeared to be more for "kicks" than an attempt to find out about more money in the home, authorities said.

The beaters severed the son's right ear and badly cut the father's right ear, police said.

The house was completely ransacked and Mrs. Horvat's rings and a small amount of money were stolen.

One of the youths said, "The pickings are better in St. Louis than they are here," authorities noted.

To become a teacher of handicapped children, Mrs. Horvat attended classes at the East St. Louis center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, taking eight years to obtain her degree. At the same time, she worked at St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis, mostly working the midnight shift so she could care for her family and attend school.

She is now a teacher at McKinley School here about 11 years ago, and has been assigned to Special Education classes at Wilson School for most of her tenure in the local school system.

She has another son, George, a Ph.D. candidate who lives in California; a daughter, Marian, a Missouri resident; and five grandchildren.

Mr. Horvat leaves two brothers, Joseph and John, and a sister, Catherine, among several relatives, among several others.

To assist Mrs. Horvat and her son meet medical expenses and other needs, fellow teachers have established a fund in memory of Mr. Horvat at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

Among the fund trustees are Martha Smith, special education teacher at Wilson, and Joan Shafer, a teacher at the multiple handicapped at Lake School.

The public is being invited to send contributions to the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, 1901 Edison Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

G. Gerald Ford named Mrs. Carlotta Hills, an assistant attorney general, as secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The President will allow to become law a bill freezing the price of food stamps through Jan. 19 at the level.

Opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment asked Mrs. Betty Ford Thursday for an accounting of public funds they said have been spent in her active support of the amendment. A White House spokesman denied that any public money has been used.

Two law partners close to G. Daniel Walker's 1972 campaign received over $206,000 in the last 18 months for legal services to state agencies.

Illinois Capital Development Board Executive Director James LeFever will return to the International Business Machines.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson on Thursday endorsed Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago for re-election in November.

He said he would support Daley and can govern it. He can do more for Chicago and the nation. When he speaks on unemployment, housing, mass transportation — the problems of the city — he is right. — Washington Post

He is a good man. He is a good speaker. — Washington Times Herald

8 South, 4 North wrestlers advance to sectional tournament

Granite City will be well represented in the GCHS South sectional wrestling tournament to be held at 7 p.m. Friday and at 1 and 7 p.m. Saturday.

A total of local grapplers — eight from South and four from North — qualified for the sectional in district competition held at Edwardsville during the week.

South won the district meet, as it did in each of the 18 years that such tournaments have been held.

The Warriors of Coach William Schmitt tallied 10 points and the GCHS North Steelers of Coach Walter Whitaker finished second with 8 points.

Of the seven other competing schools, Edwardsville scored 59 team points, Collinsville 58, Roxana 39 1/2, Wood River 12, Alton 10, Highland nine and Bethalto Civic Memorial, six.

Warrior district champions are Jim Caschetta, Woody Halbrook, Steve Garland, Kevin Page, Don Hasty, Bryan Wilson and Harry Patterson. Also advancing was a runner-up, Kevin Wilson.

The Steelers' district champion is Jim Starling. Competing in the sectional, district runners-up will be North's Keith Whelan, Matt McCullough and Terry Johnson.

Activity by weight divisions involving Granite City was as follows:

98 pounds — Caschetta (S) drew a bye, won 7-0 and took the title with a 2-0 decision over Whelan (N). The latter had advanced on a bye and won 19-0 before the championship bout.

106 — Halbrook drew a bye, won on a pin in a minute and 51 seconds and then won the championship by edging McCullough (N) 3-2. The latter earlier won on a pin in 3:03 and earned a 4-2 victory.

Devils stumble in Sumner game, then outscore Marquette on a pin in 2:20, won 16-0 and lost the title bout 7-1.

In the same weight division, Mark Widel (N) lost 15-3, won 11-5 and lost the third-place match 11-7 to finish fourth.

185 — Championship honors were won by Jerry Johnson (S) with 10-8 and 8-2 point victories and for the title defeated Dave Hamilts (N).

Hamilts did not qualify for the sectional despite reaching the title bout. He won 9-2, won another decision, lost to Peterson and dropped a 4-0 decision in a second-place bout to finish third.

Heavyweight — Jim Barker (N) placed fourth, winning in 2:39, losing 3-0, winning 2:59 and then losing 11-1 in the third-place match. Heavyweight Mark Naglich (S) lost his initial district bout 6-3 and the victor failed to advance to the finals.

On the Venice Red Devil cagers are now 21-2 after a split over the weekend.

They lost Friday in Venice to the Cardinals of St. Louis 58-53, but came back on their home court Saturday to down Marquette of Alton 30-34.

Against Sumner, the Devil held the first-quarter lead 12-11, but gave up one more of 16 field goals and Marquette won the second quarter and Sumner moved ahead 28-18 at halftime.

Summer outscored Venice 14 in the third quarter for a 42-32 lead.

The Red Devils staged a comeback in the final quarter and moved within five points at one point, out scoring Sumner 20-17 in the period.

High point man for the Red Devils was Mike Henry with 19, followed by Reggie Gardner, James Turner, eight, James Crowder four and Jeff James Sammy's vs. A's 9:30 p.m.

and Algie Crawford, each two points.

Venice made 10 out of 11 attempts to score as Sumner 11 of 19 attempts from the line. Sumner led 24-21 in field goals.

Venice committed 17 fouls to Sumner's 13.

"Summer played a good game and cut off Henry, holding him to 19 points and stopping our offense in general."

"We shot poorly, hitting only 30 per cent from the floor, and that won't help us," said Richard Eisington, head coach for the basketball Devils.

On their home court Saturday against Marquette of Alton, the Devils were down 21-19 in the first quarter but outscored Marquette 15-12 in the second quarter to move ahead 34-33 at halftime.

The second half saw Venice come alive, as it buried Marquette with a barrage of baskets in the third and fourth quarters 22-10 and 24-11.

Turner led the Venice attack with 20 points, followed by Henry with 18, Gardner 17, Logan 12, Lanick Arnold 10, Cerrone four and Crowder three.

The Devils had a 38-24 ad vantage in field goals. In free throws, Venice hit four out of nine attempts and Marquette six in 14 tries. Venice committed 14 fouls and Marquette 13.

"We did a lot of standing around that first half. After losing Friday, there was a mental letdown, and it was hard for the team to get started against Marquette."

"Marquette did a great job with its press and our boys realized that unless they got with it, Marquette would not be a pushover," Eisington said.

The Venice cagers play their last two home games of the season this week, as they meet St. Henry of Belleville on Friday and Wood River on Tuesday, with game time at 8 o'clock.

On Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 7 p.m., the Devils will begin the long road toward Champaign as they face Lovejoy High School of Brooklyn in the Dupo Regional tournament.

Cougars win by 24, lose by 2

"We had 'em but let 'em get away," said a disappointed Coach Jim Dudley after his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team had lost a heartbreaker, 63-61, to a towering Wisconsin-Parkside club

Saturday night at Meramec Community College gym in south St. Louis County.

SIEU is now 17-4 and Parkside is 18-7, including an earlier 61-67 victory over the Cougars.

There won't be any let up for the Cougars this week. On Thursday, they'll travel to Macomb, Ill., to battle Western Illinois U., and on Friday they will take on the Hawks of Quincy College at that school's "student" gym.

In the loss to Parkside, the Cougars looked like a shoeshine with a 57-50 lead with just 7:15 remaining on the clock. But a visiting team from All-American candidate Gary Cole, ripped off nine straight points to tie it up 57-57 with six minutes to go.

John Strubberg, the Cougars' junior sharpshooter from Belvidere, Ill., Henry Papp, and Jim Dudley for SIEU, 61-61, with 30 seconds remaining as he hit the first of a one-and-one.

With three seconds left, Cole had a medium shot to close out the scoring, but it was off target and a dribble the length of the floor by Cole that had given Parkside the lead 61-60, with 50 seconds to go. Most fans at the game thought that Cole had illegally stepped the ball in but it was ruled foul.

For a while Thursday night it looked like it was an "on the road" game for SIEU as it battled desperately to keep up with the Indiana U-Purdue U. of Indianapolis' 100-pointers at the Edwardsburg High gym. But

With 10 minutes to close out the scoring, it had been a nail-biter and a dribble the length of the floor by Cole that had given Parkside the lead 61-60, with 50 seconds to go. Most fans at the game thought that Cole had illegally stepped the ball in but it was ruled foul.

Madison Junior High five wins invitational tourney

The Madison Junior High School cagers concluded their season on a highly successful note this weekend, winning the Madison Junior High School invitational tourney.

Madison progressed to the finals by defeating Webster of Collinsville 41-30 Thursday night. James Head led the Madison scoring with 13 points.

Madison had survived an opening round game against Holy Cross of Collinsville Monday to advance to the semis.

The Madison Junior High team ended the season with a record of 19 wins and one loss.

Tragic murders serve as warning against drug abuse

The Press-Record in its news section today discusses the troubled world of Mrs. Donna Marie Bartels, one of the two young women stabbed to death here last week.

She had become addicted to drug abuse and later proudly commented that she had kicked the habit: "I'm clean now and have my head where it belongs."

She subsequently encountered new drug problems and had hoped to solve them here, while meanwhile telling details of her life as a warning to Quad-City area young people.

Her sudden, tragic death stilled her voice. But some of her thoughts are re-constructed in today's issue, based on her writings and conversations.

She was full of hope until the night of her brutal death. While it is now too late for her, there is still time for others to avoid such entanglements and associations.

Our article today is "strong medicine" and extremely sadening. But perhaps if it can jolt a bit of sense into someone who has been recklessly toying with his health and his life, it will serve a constructive purpose.

A short time before the double murder case, Quad-Citians had been noting how fortunate they were to live in a community where such things almost never occurred, despite a high murder rate in some of the cities in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The events of early Feb. 11 have shattered such complacency and made it clear that the violence associated with prevalence of narcotics and other practices can cruelly invade any and every community.

It is a stern, cruel lesson. Everyone wishes it had not occurred, but it would be even more cruel if no one learned anything useful from such a tragic experience befalling fellow human beings.

Retailers here meeting wide range of consumer needs

Retailing is alive and well and active in the Quad-Cities.

The robust health of local business and commerce was reflected in the large and enthusiastic turnout for the 67th annual dinner meeting of the Associated Retailers and Civic Association, held Wednesday night.

None of the founding fathers were present but many of their descendants were. And some of the firms represented trace their history back to the birth of the retail group and even before.

Many newer stores also dot the Quad-City landscape, adding vigor and diversity to the local economy.

Problems remain, many of them associated with traffic flow. But progress toward solutions is being made, as Associated Retailers President Homer Huber noted in praising the interest and effort of elected officials and improvement organizations.

Retail establishments provide countless important services to this community. Despite the growing complexity of operating a business, they continue to be ready, willing and able to meet a vast range of consumer needs.

Q. I just bought a house. Are all the points I paid to get a loan tax deductible?

A. Deductibility depends on the type of points you paid. The term "points" is sometimes used to describe charges you may pay as a mortgagor-borrower to a lender in the form of loan origination fees, maximum loan charges or premium charges. If you must pay any of these charges as a compensation solely for the use of money, then these points are regarded as interest. The amounts are deductible in full in the year you pay them, unless the deduction causes a material distortion of your income in that year. However, if the payment of charges for points is compensation for specific services that the lender performs in connection with the borrower's account, the payment is not deductible. Examples of this type of charge are a lender's appraisal fee, the cost of preparing the mortgage note or deed of trust, settlement fees and notary fees. A typical point situation is the charge for services in connection with obtaining a Veterans Administration (VA) guaranteed loan.

On the other hand, if the points are paid to the lender for services such as underwriting, then the points are not deductible. The term "points" sometimes put 16 or 17 on the face of a loan application, and there have been "bad" and "good" points. The "good" point situation is the charge for services in connection with obtaining a VA guaranteed loan.

And they come back for more, making it difficult for a lender to miss an exhibition even though prices for ringside seats (a vast area) have climbed to as much as $6 on some occasions.

On Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 6:27 a.m., I approached the stoplight at Pontoon and Nameoki Roads coming from Mitchell, and stopped at the red light.

The light was green for east-west traffic on Pontoon Road. A train was approaching, the red lights lowered, the red lights flashing.

The cars approached the gate, the first one stopped, hesitated and then drove around the gate.

The second car which was immediately behind the first was a Granite City police car which made no attempt to flash red lights, blow the siren or in any way attempt to stop the car that drove around the gate.

Too many drive around crossing gate

To the Editors:

Much has been said about the operation of the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing gates and their occasional malfunctioning.

Also, much has been said about the gates being a danger to drivers for the gates and, at times, their impatience to cross when the gates are down and apparently in proper operating condition.

On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, at approximately 3 p.m., the gates lowered and the lights were flashing, signalling the approach of a train.

A train appeared in approximately 10 minutes, with an horn which could be heard inside a car with windows rolled up.

This train was approaching from the north and took about three minutes to travel to the crossing, at which time the gates remained lowered.

At this time, traffic on both the east and west sides of the crossing became impatient and started driving around the gate. A woman on the west side of the tracks drove around the parked cars and approached the tracks to cross, and shortly backed down from the crossing and back to the rear of the first train. The train had two small children in the car.

At this time, another train approached from the same direction as the first (north) and took about the same time as the first, three minutes, to clear the crossing.

Again the gates remained down and again traffic became impatient and some cars drove around the gate and ground the gate.

Out of the cars, it pains me to mention, contained a deacon and his wife of the church to which I belong. And again, the crossing gates stayed down.

The gates lowered, the red lights flashed. The cars approached the gate, the first one stopped, hesitated and then drove around the gate.

The second car which was immediately behind the first was a Granite City police car which made no attempt to flash red lights, blow the siren or in any way attempt to stop the car that drove around the gate.

Better energy usage can be devised

(American Institute of Physics)

"The technical efficiency of energy use in the United States is appallingly low." This finding was reported by a group of physicists at the joint annual meeting of The American Physical Society and the American Association of Physics Teachers, this month.

Research papers, parallel sub-sessions, presenting research recommendations for physicists and engineers, were summarized in a special session held at the meeting.

The reports concerned windows, insulation and an overview of research opportunities in diverse areas of number of research tasks for their colleagues to work on, and pleaded for the public to realize that scientists can be as helpful in finding better ways to use the energy we have as they can be in finding new sources of energy.

The four leaders of the study were: Samuel J. Berman, professor at the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; Daniel Hartley, research engineer at the Combustion Research Division, Sandia Laboratories; Mark Ross, professor of physics at the University of Michigan; and Robert Socolow, professor of engineering at Princeton University.

When professional wrestlers tag, it's not always just one banting another.

Especially powerful wrestlers like 455-pound Olympics veteran Chris Taylor or Andre the Giant (seven feet four inches tall and 425 pounds), sometimes single-handedly face two opponents.

Australian tag teams are composed of two or three hero types versus two or three villains.

The reason that the wrestler from each side is in the ring at any one time, to gain a breathing spell, he must tag a partner who is stretching to meet his hand while also holding onto a tag rope attached to a ring post.

Adding to the dynamics, the dual referees often are caught looking in the wrong direction while two or three villains gang up on a helpless hero.

It's surprising how seriously many of the fans accept all that occurs and roar their approval or disapproval.

And they come back for more, making it difficult for a lender to miss an exhibition even though prices for ringside seats (a vast area) have climbed to as much as $6 on some occasions.

Dick the Bruiser, a former villain who has emerged as a tremendous crowd-pleaser, won a 16-man confrontation at Kiel Auditorium this winter to a thunderous ovation.

It earned him a 1975 title bout with the National Wrestling Alliance champion, Jack Brisco.

The powerful Bruiser performed predictably against Brisco, who thought he might be beaten and would be forced to change his style.

Brisco bruised a few too many regulations, including the one that says you aren't supposed to hit the referee.

Brisco is billed as the world heavyweight champion, which he is, undefeated, having failed to find a partner in the U.S.

Bruno Sammartino is recognized as the champion by the World Wrestling Federation and by the Greco-Roman, the Sensational Destroyer and the Masked Marvel.

According to Dr. Destroyer — or you can call him Sensational — if you're a close friend — advantages of wearing a mask are better protection, merely the private and anonymity. The mask helps prevent cauliflower ears, he confides.

Much longer is the history of masked wrestling than the story of the sport itself.

Only such modern sports as baseball, football, basketball and hockey, which can trace their origins to 1800s, and expanded rapidly. This worried the amateur purists, who in 1921 formed the Amateur Wrestling Federation.

The U. S. Wrestling Federation was formed in 1965 and operated in conjunction with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID P. HILLIS, whose wedding took place at Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison. The bride is the former Miss Sherry Lynn Kent, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Kent, 4917 Redwood Lane.

FEBRUARY BRIDE. Mrs. Haig Nighohossian, the former Miss Betty Hanfelder who was married Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanfelder, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Miss Sherry L. Kent and David P. Hillis are wed

Miss Sherry Lynn Kent, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Kent, 4917 Redwood Lane, and David Paul Hillis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hillis, 2457 Illinois Ave., were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on Feb. 7 at Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock was the Rev. Bobby J. Clark.

Mr. Debbie Kent, soloist, sang "Wedding Prayer" and "Tea of Never" prior to the service.

Blue candles were placed in the aisle candelabra and pink and blue bows marked the pews.

For her wedding, the bride wore a full length gown fashioned of white crepe. A daisy lace trim accented the high neckline, fitted bodice and shepherds sleeves.

Madison's bride wore a wide panel on the front of the semi-full skirt and bordered the chapel train and long veil, secured by a halo headpiece. She carried a white Bible topped with flowers and long white streamers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Faith Rodgers, was attired in a pink and blue floral print gown complemented with a blue wide brim hat.

She carried a pink carnation corsage on a white Bible.

The groom chose his brother, Steven Hillis, as best man. Virgil Spurgeon and Gerald Hogan seated the guests.

The flower girl, Cindy Hillis, a cousin of the groom, was dressed in a pink lace frock. Timothy Hillis, a brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Kent, mother of the bride, chose a full length pink dress and jacket ensemble and the groom's mother, Mrs. Hillis, selected a blue dress and jacket ensemble with matching jacket.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony.

Organist Mrs. Irene Barrick accompanied A. M. Kachigian who sang "Sunrise, Sunset" and "The Sabbath Prayer."

Burning tapera in aisle candelabra and bouquets of white winter flowers interspersed with greenery on the altar, provided the setting for the 7 o'clock double-ring ceremony.

Rev. Dr. Paul Sartori and the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner.

Serving as candlelighters were Taina Kilponen and Tari Hanfelder.

Escorted to the altar by her father, former Mr. Hanfelder, chose a white lace jersey bridal gown complemented with a veil of bridal illusion held in place with a lace Juliet cap.

The Empire bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves.

A decorative pearl necklace enhanced the bodice and a pearl brooch encircled the high rise waistline of the semi-full skirt.

The bride carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and baby's breath.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Karen Kilponen, a sister of the bride and the bridesmaids, Miss Kristine Weber of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Phoebe of Chicago, Ill., were dressed alike in burgundy knit.

Their former length gowns featured scoop necklines edged with self fabric ruffles which extended to the shoulder to form short cap sleeves.

Each attendant held a cascade of pink gladiolus festooned with trailing streamers.

The little flower girl, Tricia Kilponen, wore a frock similar to the adult attendants, with short puffed sleeves. She held a miniature bouquet of white gladiolus.

Casper Nighohossian attended his brother as best man.

The bride and groom were presented to the congregation by the Rev. Dr. Paul Sartori and the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner.

After a wedding trip to Tar-A-Long, Missouri, the newlyweds will reside in Granite City.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School.

The former Miss Hanfelder also graduated from Granite City High School where she was a member of Psi Chi National Honor Society and served as president of Adelphie Sorority.

She is now employed at the First Granite City National Bank.

The groom is a MacMurray College graduate and belonged to the Order of Tartan. He currently is employed as a chemistry teacher at East St. Louis High School.

Students learn photographic skills

All phases of photography are being studied by the Photography Club at Granite City High School South which meets every other Thursday afternoon.

The purpose of the Photography club is to learn the basic techniques of taking good pictures, developing the film, and printing the good pictures. The club has two available cameras for its members to use. It is, therefore, necessary for a student to own a camera to join the club. The club wants students who are interested in learning how to take better pictures to become members.

The members develop and enlarge all their black and white photographs. Throughout the year, most of the members have improved their photographic ability. This includes skills on better photographic composition, various lighting procedures, exposure settings, working with filters, and darkroom techniques.

The club owns a Durst M60 enlarger. With this enlarger a member is able to print from one inch in size to giant poster size. After some practice, it becomes easy to estimate the correct exposure time required to make a perfect print. The darkroom is available for any club member to make negatives, prints, and enlargements.

During the past school year, the club has sponsored a dance, a talent show, and sponsored the Holiday Writing Tournament program. Other "money making" projects are planned for the rest of the year.

They have taken trips to Union Station, the Arch, the St. Louis police station, and academic and KSD-TV studio to watch the "noon news."

On Thursday, Feb. 27, two of the members will tape a segment for the "Corky the Clown Cartoon Show."

They will discuss how children could develop an interest in photography as a hobby. They will also show the public the prints, darkroom and enlarger when they toured the studio. The show is to be on television the beginning week of March.

The officers of the club are: Peggy Jo Hackney, president; Bruce Gordon, vice-president; Debbie Hosea, secretary; Renee Chenevert, treasurer; and Gary Irvin, darkroom supervisor.

The club sponsor is Mrs. Deemana Spudich.

The members include: Mark Brand, Renee Chenevert, Bruce Gordon, Peggy Jo Hackney, Rick Heath, Debbie Hosea, Debbie Irvin, Steve Jones, Mark Miller, Rhonda Nesbit, Debbie Richardson, Mike Shane, Peggy Smolich, Kevin Trobaugh, Vicki Williams.

Bill would add cats to inoculation laws

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record

SPRINGFIELD BUREAU

Not to slight the feline inhabitants of the state, a bill has been introduced in the Illinois House to give County Boards the authority to require the rabies inoculation of cats.

If the requirement for registration of cats is imposed by the boards, the fee could not exceed $4, according to the bill.

which seeks to amend the Animal Control Act.

The fees for cats that are spayed or altered could be lowered.

If passed, the bill would give the boards authority to impose these requirements. They could not set the fees.

The original Animal Control Act, passed in 1973 made the inoculation of dogs against rabies and the $4 registration fees was $1. Last year, the law was amended to unify the year-old registration fee.

The inoculation against rabies for dogs — over four months of age and not confined at all times to an enclosed area — remains.

The new bill seeks to include cats in this category, when County Boards deem it necessary. The boards would assume the authority to establish the inoculation and issue tags.

Incidence of rabies in cats has outnumbered the incidence found in dogs during the past two years, according to figures from the Illinois Department of Public Health.

In 1974, there were 15 cases of rabies found in cats and 13 in dogs, while last year 13 cases were confirmed in cats and seven cases were confirmed involving dogs.

The bill also adds a section providing for the apprehension and impoundment of cats running at large.

Procedures outlining steps for recovering and disposing of cats are to be the same as those for dogs.

The legislation was introduced by Rep. Donald Deuster, R-Mundelein.

Winter still threat to drivers, Veizer warns

"Winter isn't quite over yet," Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer reminded Granite City drivers. "But he fears that 'some drivers and their cars are beginning to suffer from 'winter fatigue.' If so, we could be in trouble."

The symptoms of winter fatigue in vehicles according to Veizer include: batteries no longer in top condition; burned-out lights; streaking windshield wiper blades that had too many bouts of heavy snow and ice; and cold tires and chains; car engines gummed up from too many cold-weather, short-distance trips without an opportunity to warm up properly; and excessive noise signifying a leaky muffler or tailpipe.

The antidote, Chief Veizer suggests, is a mid-winter tune-up.

If the engine is noisy, or a faint odor of exhaust fumes is sometimes detected inside the car, have the muffed checked out right away, he said.

If the windshield wipers are worn and streaking, replace them now. If tire chains and batteries don't depend on them to last out the winter, get them replaced. Late winter storms are no time to be unprepared or unable to get or to keep going, Veizer urged.

And even when the chief feels that nothing will really cure winter weariness except spring itself,

But the symptoms can be treated. These are some of the things that he and the International Association of Chiefs of Police suggest:

Check winter driving habits. Make sure that your driving speed still shows a respect for the treachery of icy pavement; that you still maintain a safe distance between vehicles that you still avoid sudden acceleration and abrupt stops; that you negotiate corners slowly and carefully; that you keep your brakes to slow and stop a vehicle before the turn. Make safe, rolling stops and avoid the danger of skidding into serious trouble.

On a practical note as far as keeping roads and streets clear, Chief Veizer noted an increasing reluctance on the part of car owners to shovel driveways promptly. The result: more cars are being parked at street curbs in the hopes that a quick thaw will automatically solve the problem.

Not only is street clearance hampered, but mud, slush and salt film accumulate on lights, license plates and even car windows, all adding to the driver's winter problems unnecessarily.

"Winter may be relaxing a bit now, but it's no time for us to relax," the chief warned.

"Before winter goes for the final count, you can still count on him to throw some heavy snow flakes in our direction."

Choate and friends still must be reckoned with in Assembly

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau

Who's going to be the most important member in the 79th Illinois General Assembly?

Surprise! Clay Choate.

Despite his failure to win the House speakership and his bargain. And, with the possible exception of the late Paul Powell, the Illinois legislature has no harder bargainer.

Choate's bloc is made up basically of Southern Illinois lawmakers—including Madison Countyans—and shares a common objective of protecting and advancing the interests of that region.

It is obvious that the group is woefully short of the number of votes needed to pass desired legislation. But with a winning record, the group can, perhaps, achieve respectable treatment for Southern Illinois.

Reports have been flowing in from Springfield that Choate is disengaged in the south about how the area is faring in the legislature.

This, despite the fact that Walker has always posed as a hardcore loyalist who is seated around him in the House chamber in a pattern reminiscent of the covered wagon train, formed in a protective circle to fight off the Indians in the Old West.

In this case, Choate's Indians consist of Walker, Daley, the Repub and independent Chicago Democratic tribal faction in the House.

Sooner or later, say Capitol cynics, all will have to come to Choate.

It takes 59 votes to pass a bill in the House. Although Democrats have 101 of the number needed.

He still retains about 15 hardcore loyalists who are seated around him in the House chamber in a pattern reminiscent of the covered wagon train, formed in a protective circle to fight off the Indians in the Old West.

Mrs. Betty Smith, a past president of the Elite Hairdressers Association, Affiliate 33, and a teacher at Trend Beauty School, and Mrs. Lorraine Decatur, museum director and historian for the local affiliate, were guest speakers at Grigsby Junior High School last week.

The Granite City hairdressers demonstrated good grooming and hair cutting and styling. They used six models to demonstrate their presentation.

Assisting the speakers were models Bobby Randolph, Anita Wallace, Rose Cuevas, Carol Waller, Tammy Ponder and Deaneane Bolling.

Arrangements for the program were made by Mrs. Eunice Witter and Mrs. Geraldine Cox, home economics teachers at Grigsby JHS.

Chapter HT views Lincoln artifacts

G. H. Sternberg gave a program dealing with the life of Abraham Lincoln and showed artifacts from his private collection to illustrate the informal talk at last week's meeting of Chapter HT of PEO Sisterhood.

Twenty members gathered at the home of Mrs. Nina Marshman, 2412 E. 25th St., for the monthly session. Mrs.

Dorothy Buente presided. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Mary Miller, with Mrs. Polly West presenting the program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The guest speaker invited the members to visit the Lincoln's Room exhibit at his home.

What if your INCOME should suddenly

Protect your most important asset . . .

your ability to earn an income!

Congressional's Income-Protection Plan provides you with a weekly income when you are disabled and unable to work due to either an accident or illness. You have 24-hour, round-the-clock protection --- both on and off the job. Congressional's plan pays in addition to your health insurance, whether or not hospitalization is required, and even when you are not confined to your home.

Congressional's Income Protection check comes directly to you -- to use as you see fit. Use your Income-Protection check to pay current bills...to maintain your family's standard of living...to keep-up car payments, to pay rent, or to buy food and clothing while you are disabled.

Congressional's Income-Protection Plan is available on an individual basis -- you do NOT have to be a member of a special group. And it's tailored to fit your needs and your budget. For full details, including a printed description of all benefits and rates, complete the card below and mail promptly.

THE POLICY DOES NOT COVER accidents that occur before the date of issue or sickness that begins prior to 30 days after the date of issue. Policy does not cover disability as a result of suicide, self-inflicted injury, war, pregnancy, intoxication, or disability caused by a narcotic unless administered by a physician. Disability which commences six months after the insured is outside of the United States, District of Columbia, or Canada is not covered. Coverage is suspended while the insured is a full-time member of the Armed Forces.

For full details, or for other information, check the appropriate box below, complete the form, and mail today.

$10,000.00 PROTECTION

Hospital-Surgical-Medical Insurance

Here is the kind of policy you can live with! A policy that pays claims promptly (90% of claims are paid within 48 hours after receipt of proof of claim loss) . . . a policy that pays without red tape (your doctor or hospital completes the claim form) . . . a policy that pays at any hospital in the world (no reduction in benefits, regardless of where hospital is located, except that benefits are not payable for care received in a government hospital).

Check these outstanding features of the Golden Rule Plan

$10,000.00 MAXIMUM BENEFITS -- based on all of the first $500.00 of covered expense, after a $25.00 deductible, plus 80% of remaining covered expenses. This benefit applies to each member of the family.

SURGICAL BENEFITS -- NO LIMIT to the number of surgical procedures payable as the result of any one accident or illness. Surgical benefits payable when surgery is done in doctor's office or clinic, as well as in the hospital.

NO LIMIT -- on the number of days of hospital confinement for any one accident or illness.

MATERNITY COVERAGE -- FIFTEEN TIMES the daily room benefit for normal pregnancy. No deductible. Benefit covers insured and spouse only, and only after 9 months premium payment.

EMERGENCY ACCIDENT BENEFIT -- covers usual and customary charges for X-rays, lab tests, emergency room charges on an outpatient basis in doctor's office, clinic, or hospital within 48 hours after an accident. No deductible unless hospital confinement is required.

ROOM COVERAGE -- to fit hospital charges in your area. Your choice of room benefits, from $30 to $75 per day.

POLICY DOES NOT COVER losses resulting from bodily injuries sustained prior to issuance of policy, nor diseases or illnesses contracted prior to 30 days after issuance of policy. Does not cover disabilities covered by workmen's compensation or occupational disease laws, nor care in a government hospital where the insured is not required to pay. Does not cover war, custodial care, suicide or self-inflicted injury, dental care or oral surgery, alcoholism or narcotics except as administered on the advice of a physician. Liability for mental disorders is limited to a maximum of $1,500.00 per covered person.

When a covered person becomes eligible for Medicare benefits, coverage will be changed to the Medicare Supplement at rates and benefits applicable.
